2-Sacramento Community Police Review Commission Follow-Up Log

Description/Analysis

Issue Detail: Like other City commissions and committees, the Sacramento Community Police Review Commission (Commission) maintains, as a standing item, a follow-up log to organize and track items that may be considered in the future. The follow-up log details each item, the relevant 2025 Work Plan issue, and gives an estimate of when staff expect to bring the item back to the Commission. Commission members are welcome to add items to the log during each meeting.

The Commission meetings are staffed by the City Clerk's office. As such, it is up to the Commissioners to prioritize the items that will guide the work for each year. As the Commission continues efforts to organize itself and identify the areas of concern that the Commission will address for the 2025 calendar year, the Chair will agendaize a standing agenda item at the end of each meeting for Commissioners to request or make recommendations for topics of discussion for the following month's meeting.

Message from the Sacramento Community Police Review Commission Chair

In 2025, the Sacramento Community Police Review Commission experienced both transition and renewed focus. The Commission welcomed several new Commissioners, bringing fresh perspectives, professional expertise, and a shared commitment to community, reform, and public service. With this transition came an important opportunity to reflect on the Commission's purpose and reaffirm the need for a strong community body serving the residents of Sacramento.

The addition of new members prompted thoughtful discussion about the Commission's role, and commissioner onboarding. The Commission also continued to conduct Military Equipment Use public meetings, providing a forum for community input and ensuring compliance with state law requirements.

Recognizing the importance of structure and efficiency, the Commission organized its work around a four-goal work plan. This framework guided our priorities and provided clarity regarding deliverables and timelines. In the absence of direct, dedicated staff support, Commissioners assumed additional responsibility by establishing Ad Hoc Committees aligned with the work plan. These committees focused on engagement and function, community policing and response efficiency, and resource allocation, which allowed for more detailed research, focused discussion, and substantive preparation before matters returned to the full Commission for deliberation.

This organizational approach strengthened internal alignment and enhanced the Commission's ability to engage constructively with the Sacramento Police Department.

The work reflected in this report represents countless hours of research, preparation, public meetings, and community engagement. Commissioners devoted significant time outside of scheduled meetings to reviewing materials, analyzing policy, and ensuring that recommendations were carefully considered and responsibly framed. That dedication underscores the seriousness with which Commissioners approach their public service.

As we transition into 2026, the Commission remains committed to improving transparency, strengthening collaboration with both the community and the Sacramento Police Department, and ensuring accountability through structured follow-up and clear public reporting. Our goal is not only to review policies and practices but also to contribute meaningfully to a public safety system that reflects community values, legal standards, and operational effectiveness.

We remain grateful for the continued engagement of Sacramento residents, City Council, and the partnership of the Sacramento Police Department. The Commission looks forward to building on the foundation established in 2025 and advancing thoughtful, measured oversight in the year ahead.

Respectfully submitted,

2025 Recommendations to City Council

1. Sacramento Community Police Review Commission Staffing Support

The Community Police Review Commission recommends that the City Council evaluate and provide direction regarding staffing support necessary to ensure the Commission can effectively fulfill its purpose and duties.

Specifically, the Commission recommends that the City Council explore options to provide dedicated staff support through reassignment or the re-allocation of existing City staff resources, without creating a new budgeted position.

Justification

Multiple stakeholders, including the City Auditor, members of the City Council, community members, and Commissioners, have identified the need for sufficient staffing support for the Sacramento Community Police Review Commission. This concern has been raised consistently since at least 2023, including during discussions before the Personnel & Public Employees (P&PE) Committee and at a full City Council meeting on September 12, 2023. Most recently, the issue was again discussed at the April 8, 2025, City Council meeting.

The Commission was established to serve and function as a bridge between the Sacramento community and the Sacramento Police Department. To fulfill this role effectively, the Commission must be supported by sufficient administrative, analytical, and operational capacity.

Despite limited staffing resources, the Commission has managed to carry out its responsibilities, including reviewing matters within its jurisdiction, conducting public meetings, engaging community members, and developing policy recommendations. However, the scope and complexity of our responsibilities require sustained administrative coordination, research support, data management, public communication, and agenda preparation. Without adequate staff support, the Commission’s ability to operate efficiently, respond to the community in a timely manner, and proactively engage the community is constrained.

The Commission recognizes the City’s budgetary constraints and does not recommend creating a new position at this time. Instead, the Commission believes that enhanced support could be achieved through realignment, shared staffing models, or other allocation of existing City personnel resources.

Providing appropriate staffing support would strengthen the Commission’s ability to:

- Ensure timely and thorough preparation of reports and recommendations;
- Enhance transparency and public accessibility of Commission work;
- Improve coordination with the Sacramento Police Department and other City departments;
- Support data-driven review and policy analysis; and
- Increase community engagement and responsiveness.

Strengthened staffing support would improve the Commission’s effectiveness as a bridge-building body and would better position it to meet community expectations for transparency, accountability, and constructive engagement.

2. Commissioner Onboarding and Ongoing Training Program

The Sacramento Community Police Review Commission recommends that the City Council formally support and institutionalize a structured onboarding and ongoing training program for all Commission members, consistent with the Orientation and Training Outline discussed and approved by the Commission in 2025 (Document II).

Justification

The Commission’s effectiveness depends on members having a clear understanding of:

- Their legal authority and jurisdiction;
- The scope and limits of advisory oversight;
- The organizational structure and operations of the Sacramento Police Department;
- Applicable state and local laws governing policing practices, including Military Equipment Use requirements;
- The City’s budget process and the relationship between policy and resource allocation.

The City Auditor’s report emphasized the importance of formalized onboarding, clarity of roles, and consistent training to ensure effective oversight and continuity during commissioner transitions. In 2025, the Commission experienced significant membership changes. This transition highlighted the need for a standardized, structured training framework to ensure that all commissioners are adequately prepared to fulfill their duties.

Without a formal onboarding structure, institutional knowledge may be unevenly distributed, and new commissioners may take longer to become fully effective. A structured training program promotes consistency, accountability, and procedural fairness.

Good Afternoon, Mayor and Councilmembers:

On behalf of the Sacramento Community Police Review Commission, we respectfully submit this letter regarding the proposal to reduce the number of commission meetings by half.

After reaching out to the City Clerk's Office, we were advised to provide our feedback directly to the Mayor and City Council for consideration.

While we understand the City's interest in improving efficiency and reducing administrative burdens, we respectfully express concern that significantly reducing commission meetings may limit opportunities for public engagement, transparency, and timely review of matters relating to public safety and community trust.

As your appointed representatives serving on the Sacramento Community Police Review Commission, we believe there are alternative approaches that can help accomplish the City's goals while still preserving the Commission's effectiveness and accessibility to the public. We are willing to take responsibility for evaluating and limiting the length and scope of our monthly meetings in a manner that better aligns with the Council's recommendations and operational expectations.

Additionally, we would respectfully request consideration of allowing the Commission the flexibility to conduct an additional meeting, when necessary, with quorum within any Council District. These meetings could focus specifically on Commission reports, community concerns, and opportunities for increased public visibility and engagement. We believe this approach would strengthen communication between the Commission and the communities we serve while maintaining efficiency in the Commission's regular business structure.

The Sacramento Community Police Review Commission values its partnership with the Mayor and City Council and remains committed to serving the community with transparency, accountability, and responsiveness. We respectfully ask the City Council to reconsider the proposed reduction and to work collaboratively with the Commission to identify solutions that maintain meaningful public participation and oversight.

Thank you for your consideration and continued support of the Commission's work.

Respectfully,

Sacramento Community Police Review Commission
