Whistleblower Hotline Program

The City Auditor's Whistleblower Hotline promotes good government by providing City employees and members of the public with a way to report allegations of improper government activities, defined as fraud, waste, or abuse. California Government Code 53087.6 defines fraud, waste, or abuse in the context of a Whistleblower program as > "…any activity by a local agency, employee, or contractor or subcontractor that may be in violation of any local, state, or federal law, ordinance, or regulation relating to corruption, malfeasance, bribery, theft of government property, fraudulent claims, fraud, coercion, conversion, malicious prosecution, misuse or misappropriation of government property, funds, or resources, or willful omission to perform a duty, is economically wasteful, or involves gross misconduct."

This report contains the disposition of alleged improper government activity reported through the City's Whistleblower Hotline from July through December 2025; disposition is listed for cases that were closed during the reporting period. Additionally, this report provides a high-level description of how the City's Whistleblower Hotline operates; additional details can be found in the City Auditor's Policies and Procedures Manual.[1]

Contact the City's Whistleblower Hotline

City staff or members of the public may submit reports by calling the Whistleblower Hotline's toll-free number 1-888-245-8859 or online at www.cityofsacramento.ethicspoint.com. City staff or members of the public may also submit whistleblower reports directly to any Auditor in person, over the phone, by voicemail, by e-mail, or by mail. The identity of those who provide whistleblower information will be kept confidential to the extent permitted by law unless the individual waives confidentiality in writing.

Whistleblower Protection Policy

The City's Whistleblower Protection Policy states "No City official or employee shall take retaliatory action against any employee who, in good faith, has made a complaint or allegation concerning improper governmental action." The policy defines retaliatory action as "any adverse change in an employee employment status or the terms and conditions of employment resulting from an employee's good faith complaint or allegation of an improper governmental action."

The City Auditor’s Independence, Authority, and Responsibility

The Auditor reports directly to the Mayor and City Council, and is independent of other City departments and agencies. This independence reduces the threat of coercion, influence, or conflict of interest during investigative audits.

California Government Code Section 53087.6 authorizes the City to create a whistleblower hotline to receive calls from persons who have information regarding fraud, waste, or abuse or improper governmental activity. Under this authority, City Code 2.18.050.B requires the Auditor to manage the City’s Whistleblower Hotline and determine if allegations of fraud, waste, abuse, or illegal acts need further investigation. Key points of Government Code section 53087.6 are outlined in Exhibit 1.

Exhibit 1: Key Points of California Government Code Section 53087.6

Key Points of California Government Code 53087.6

- The City Auditor shall obtain approval from City Council before establishing a whistleblower hotline. This approval was obtained from the Sacramento City Council in March 2012.
- The hotline is used to receive calls from people who have information regarding fraud, waste, or abuse.
- The City Auditor may refer calls received on the hotline to the appropriate government authority for review and investigation.
- During the initial review of calls received, the City Auditor (or the appropriate government authority to whom the call is referred) shall hold in confidence information disclosed through the hotline. This includes the identities of the callers disclosing information and the people identified by the callers.
- Upon receiving specific information regarding fraud, waste, abuse, or improper governmental activity, the City Auditor may conduct an investigative audit.
- The identity of the individuals providing information that initiated the investigative audit shall not be disclosed without their written permission, unless the disclosures are to law enforcement agencies conducting criminal investigations.
- The investigative audit shall be kept confidential except to issue a substantiated investigative audit report or to release findings from completed investigative audits that are deemed necessary to serve the interests of the public.
- The identities of individuals reporting the improper government activities and the subject employees investigated shall be kept confidential.
- The City Auditor may provide a substantiated investigative audit report and other information (including subject employee identities) to appointing authorities for disciplinary purposes.

Understanding the Investigative Audit and Referral Process

While California law sets certain requirements for establishing and managing a whistleblower hotline, local auditors have broad discretion in how to operate their programs. The Auditor thoroughly reviews each allegation submitted through the Whistleblower Hotline and determines the appropriate avenue for resolution. While this may result in office staff conducting investigative audits, in certain circumstances, it may instead be appropriate to refer allegations to other City departments for investigation.

Upon completion of an investigative audit which substantiates an allegation, an investigative summary will be prepared for inclusion in the semi-annual Whistleblower Activity Report. State law mandates that, even in the event of a substantiated allegation, personnel information is to remain confidential.

Allegations Covered by Other City Departments

The intent of establishing a Whistleblower Hotline is not to replace or limit other reporting options, as some allegations are more appropriately investigated by other City departments or offices. For example, many Human Resources-related issues should be reported to the appropriate Human Resources staff; labor grievances, allegations of workplace discrimination, and workers' compensation claims should be reported using City procedures established for that purpose. Similarly, complainants may need to report legal issues to the City Attorney's Office or code enforcement violations to the Community Development Department.

As appropriate, the Auditor will refer cases to other City departments or offices.[2] However, it may still be appropriate for staff to gather initial information to better understand issues involved and to review the outcomes, responses, and investigation documents from other City departments or offices to ensure the allegations were addressed.

Allegations Covered by Non-City Agencies

As California's state capital and the Sacramento County seat, the City of Sacramento is home to numerous federal, state, and county agencies. As a result, some complaints made to the City's Whistleblower Hotline may be partly or solely related to government agencies external to the City of Sacramento.

Allegations involving an external government agency or employee will be referred in whole or in part to the most appropriate government entity.[3] Complaint investigation services are available at many government agencies and may include fraud, waste, and abuse whistleblower programs, internal affairs programs, judicial oversight authorities, offices of professional responsibility, etc.

Whistleblower Procedures Prioritize High-Risk Allegations

Due to the Auditor's limited staff and its main responsibility to conduct performance audits, research, and analysis in accordance with the City Council-approved workplan, conducting full investigative audits of all allegations is not feasible. Instead, the Auditor applies a risk-based approach to investigate whistleblower allegations to focus investigative efforts on those allegations that represent the greatest risk or loss to the City. The following guidance applies when rating allegations:

High Priority

Allegations may be considered high priority if they include a health, safety, or welfare concern, loss[4] to the City of more than $75,000, criminal activity resulting in a loss of at least $400, high-level involvement, collusion of multiple wrongdoers, major department-wide issue, or need for immediate action to stop a potentially major issue. Addressing these items could take priority over other investigations and audits, at the Auditor's discretion.

Medium Priority

This category includes loss to the City of more than $25,000, abuse of authority, medium to low-level employee involvement, minor department-wide issues, or patterns of small problems that could become serious when aggregated. Some medium-priority items could be referred to a department for their review.

Low Priority

This category includes loss to the City of less than $25,000, isolated instances of time abuse, wasteful practices that would lead to limited gains in efficiencies if corrected, or allegations that lack credibility and evidence. The office would aim to investigate items in this category but may not do so because of limited resources. However, if the same or similar issues were reported multiple times, low-priority items may become a higher priority. Additionally, some low-priority allegations could be referred to a department for their review.

Unrelated to the City

Some allegations received through the Whistleblower Hotline do not involve City departments or employees. The Auditor assesses these allegations for any City involvement. If no City involvement can be determined, those allegations are closed as "Unrelated to the City"; some allegations not related to the City are referred to other jurisdictions.

[4] Loss could entail actual or potential loss of money, waste, or inefficiencies.

Whistleblower Hotline Dashboards

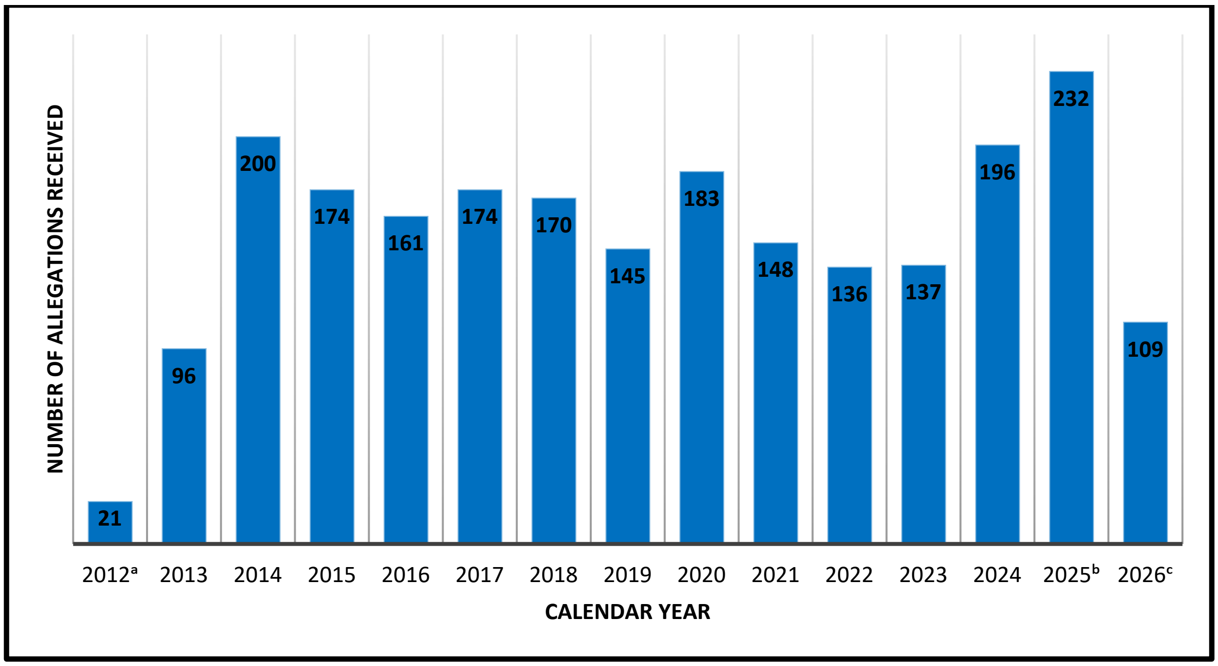
The Auditor maintains several Whistleblower Hotline dashboards on its public website. City Officials and the public can use these dashboards to see statistics on the types of cases received through the City's Whistleblower Hotline, the disposition of closed cases, brief descriptions of substantiated cases, actions taken on substantiated cases, and the monetary benefit of the hotline. The dashboards are typically updated semi-annually with the release of each Whistleblower Hotline Activity Report and can be found at: https://www.cityofsacramento.gov/auditor/our-reports/whistleblower-activity

Status of Investigations

Annual Number of Whistleblower Allegations Received (2012–2026)

Since the hotline's inception in 2012, the Auditor has received more than 2,000 complaints. Use of the Auditor's Whistleblower Hotline grew significantly in the first few years and has been steady since 2014. Exhibit 2 illustrates the number of allegations received per year since the program's inception.

Exhibit 2: Whistleblower Allegations Received Per Year



[a] A report was received in 2011; however, investigation activity did not begin until 2012 following formal approval of the Whistleblower Hotline program.

[b] Of the total cases received, 44 resulted from repeated duplicate submissions by a single source and may not accurately reflect typical reporting trends.

[c] Denotes a partial year, including January 1, 2026, through June 30, 2026.

114 Cases Were Closed During the Period

At the beginning of the January 2026 through June 2026 reporting period, the Auditor had 21 open cases. During this reporting period, 109 new reports were received through the hotline, and the City Auditor processed and closed 114 cases; 16 cases remained open at the end of the reporting period. Exhibit 3 illustrates the number of closed cases during the period by primary type of allegation.

Exhibit 3: 114 Closed Cases by Primary Type of Allegation

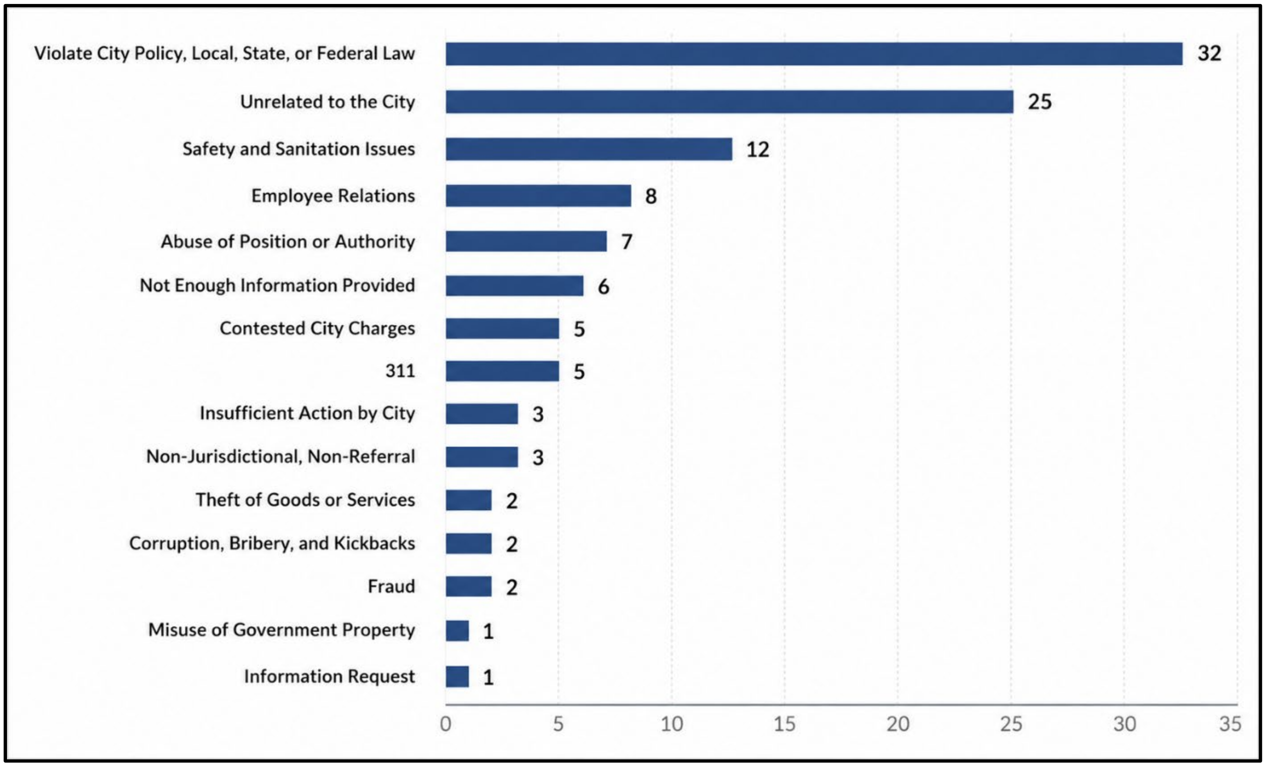


Exhibit 4 provides the primary type of allegation, priority, and disposition of the 114 cases closed during the period.
